SHARON SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH

April 20, 2019

This week we finish this series with the last point to help a believer survive a terrible work experience. However, it also focuses on the resurrection. The English word “excruciating” comes from the word “crucifixion.” Can you imagine the intense pain Jesus endured on the cross? When taking the time to review the narrative, it is unfair for Jesus to be treated so atrociously. It is also frustrating that He refused to defend Himself. The Bible says, “He was oppressed and afflicted, yet He did not open His mouth; He was led like a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before its shearers is silent, so He did not open His mouth.” Isaiah 53:7 When we encounter distress on the job it can be an excruciating and unfair experience. We desire justice and can't keep our peace. Some may be tempted to lash out with harsh words at an employer or colleague.

1. Exemplary work ethic.
2. Control emotions.
3. Grow your network.
4. Do something good for the co-worker(s) who wronged you.
5. Learn to wait. Realize that time is your friend and you will get to see a turn of events. Jesus would endure the cross and death, but He didn't stay there. He conquered death, resurrected and ascended to Heaven. The Bible also shares that He is going to return and even His “haters” will see Him. “Behold, He is coming with clouds, and every eye will see Him, even they who pierced Him. And all the tribes of the earth will mourn because of Him. Even so, Amen.” Revelation 1:7 This is also a promise that your difficult situation is only temporary, and your “haters” will see you soar.
